

Compostable Materials

Certification Scheme

This scheme replaces multiple logos, symbols, and claims about compostability with two certification marks that show if a product is suitable for composting at home or at an industrial composting facility.

The mark designs are familiar to UK consumers and contain an identifiable product registration code which can be checked on our website.

We promote compostable and biodegradable alternatives to conventional plastic.

Products on our scheme have been independently certified to recognised standards. Use our website to find certified products and other consumer information.

For producers, we can offer certification to EN 13432 (and EN 14995) for industrial compostability and certification to NF T51-800 / AS 5810 for home compostability.

For information on how to join the Compostable Materials Certification Scheme, you can contact the scheme owner using the details below.
